COLOR SECTION RICHMOND, VA. Sunday, Nov. 5th, 1911.

The Fascinating Game of Shopping in Richmond

Cut out the large disc and arrow, mount on separate pieces of cardboard, put pin through middle of arrow and attach to centre of disc. Cut out small colored discs for use as counters, and paste on cardboard or buttons. The entire playing board may be mounted on cardboard, if desired. Two, three or four persons may play. Each player selects a "home," a "bank" nearest the home, and one of the small discs (counters) colored to correspond to the home selected. Each player must be provided with 100 or more beans, coffee grains or beads, to represent money. Now you are ready to play.

The object of the game is to make a shopping tour completely around the board, and the player having the most "money" in his or her bank at the end of the tour wins the game. To begin the game, a player spins the arrow, and, starting from home, moves his or her counter a number of spaces on the board corresponding to the number indicated by the arrow on the large disc. The arrow is spun and moves are made by each player in turn. "Money" is placed in the bank or taken out, as directed by the spaces on board to which moves are made.

